

Investigating the Individual and Social Dimensions of the Islamic Economic Model in the Life of Imam Kāẓim (as)

Mohammad Danesh Nahad¹ Mohammad Hasan Vakili²

(Received: March 2022 ,07, Accepted: June 2022 ,07)

Abstract

The 35-year period of Imamate of Imam Kāẓim (as) is considered one of the most important fields for understanding the Islamic economic model; because the long term of Imamate compared to other Imams on the one hand and the social conditions that have arisen on the other hand caused the economic activities of Imam Kāẓim (as) to emerge and develop. This research is based on the library method and information analysis in order to provide a solution for the realization of Islamic economy by following it and examining the individual and social dimensions of the economic activities of Imam Kāẓim (as). The results of this research include: Individual economic dimensions in the life of Imam Kāẓim (as) can be seen in at least three areas: Asceticism, contentment and abandoning false needs; Work, effort and self-sacrifice. 2. The socio-economic dimensions in Imam Kāẓim's life are generally found in three areas: macro management of economic issues; attracting hard-to-reach funds and the quality of spending funds for poverty alleviation of society. 3. One of the socio-economic patterns of Imam Kāẓim (as) is that in case of lack of financial resources, instead of giving favors to a larger number of the poor, a smaller number of people are given favors. But on the other hand, they should be taken care of so that they can form an independent life.

Keywords: Imam Kāẓim (as), Asceticism, Self-Sacrifice, Macro-Management, Lawyers' Network, Poverty Alleviation.

1. PhD in theology of Yasouj University and 3rd level student of theology and wisdom of Mashhad seminary (corresponding author): m_borosdar@yahoo.com

2. Professor of Higher Levels of Mashhad Seminary: Mohammadhasanvakili@gmail.com